

LITERACY COMPETENCE

The background is a solid light pink color. It is decorated with abstract geometric shapes and patterns in a darker pink shade. In the top-left corner, there is a large circle with a smaller circle inside it, and a curved line with a dashed pattern. In the top-right corner, there is a grid pattern and a cluster of small circles. In the bottom-left corner, there is a cluster of small circles and a grid pattern. In the bottom-right corner, there is a large circle with a smaller circle inside it, and a curved line with a dashed pattern.

INTRODUCTION

KNOWLEDGE

This includes understanding language, vocabulary, grammar, and concepts related to reading and writing. It also involves cultural and contextual knowledge that helps interpret information correctly.

SKILLS

These are the practical abilities needed for literacy, such as reading fluency, writing clarity, critical thinking, and problem-solving. Skills also include digital literacy and media literacy, which are increasingly important in today's world.

ATTITUDE

A person's mindset toward learning and using literacy skills matters. Confidence, curiosity, motivation, and adaptability all influence how effectively someone engages with written and spoken communication.

CONCLUSION

Literacy is more than just reading and writing, it is the foundation for learning, communication, and critical thinking. By developing knowledge, skills, and attitudes, individuals can effectively engage with information, adapt to new challenges, and participate meaningfully in society. In an increasingly digital world. Investing in literacy empowers individuals and strengthens communities, paving the way for a more knowledgeable and connected world.

Co-funded by the European Union

Funded by the European Union. Views and opinions expressed are however those of the author(s) only and do not necessarily reflect those of the European Union or Dům zahraniční spolupráce (DZS). Neither the European Union nor DZS can be held responsible for them.

Financováno Evropskou unií. Vyjádřené názory a stanoviska představují názory a stanoviska autorů a nemusí nutně odrážet názory a stanoviska Evropské unie nebo Domu zahraniční spolupráce. Evropská unie ani poskytovatel grantu za ně nenesou odpovědnost.